

Wooden doors and wooden windows for your wooden log house

The image shows the interior of a log cabin. On the left, there is a large wooden window with a dark frame and a wooden sill. The window is divided into several panes. To the right of the window is a wooden door with a six-panel design and a dark handle. The walls and ceiling are made of light-colored, rounded log sections. The floor is also made of wood. The overall atmosphere is warm and rustic.

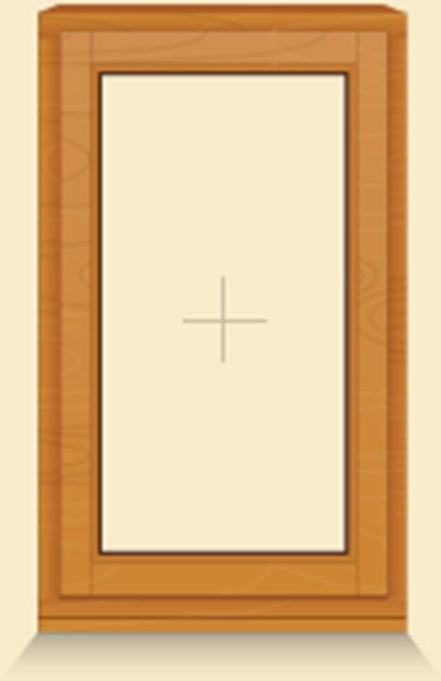

Any wooden log house should be finished with usage of wooden windows and wooden doors and this is the only choice to make your house 100% ecofriendly construction!
